DETAILS OF THE RESIDENCY PROGRAMME

Artists will receive the following benefits:

- Three months accommodation in a fully furnished architecturally designed two-bedroom house at 69 Otitori Bay Road, French Bay, Titirangi. Accommodation includes electricity, phone line and broadband rental.
- Exclusive use of the adjoining arts studio.
- Unlimited access to the restored McCahon House Museum on the adjacent property.
- Welcome reception and farewell at the residency.
- Administrative support from the McCahon House Trust.
- The opportunity to hold open days or public talks at the residency or other appropriate venue during the residency.
- The opportunity for an exhibition or visual presentation of work developed during the residency at an appropriate public gallery at a time suitable to all parties.
- A stipend provided to the artist by the McCahon House Trust and its sponsor Creative New Zealand Toi Uru Kahikatea Fund.

THE RESIDENCY FACILITY

Accommodation provided is in the award winning house designed by architect, Pete Bossley. It is situated close to the beach at French Bay in the foothills of the Waitakere Ranges, approximately 30 minutes drive from central Auckland.

Facilities include one queen and one twin bedroom, one bathroom, two toilets, laundry, fully equipped kitchen, living room with television, DVD and stereo. The living room, bedrooms and studio are all fitted with heat pumps.

The artist's studio is approximately 9m x 4.5m. It is equipped with a chair, four tables, sink and bench, shelving, a dehumidifier and wireless computer broadband.

Adjacent to the residency is the restored house where Colin McCahon and his family lived from 1953 – 1960. As a House Museum it is open to the public from 1pm to 4pm on Wednesdays to Sundays.

Due to the steep hillside aspect of the property there are many stairs making it difficult for access to those requiring wheelchair access.

CONDITIONS OF ENTRY

1. Applicants must be New Zealand citizens or permanent residents of New Zealand at the time of entry.
2. Applicants must be committed to a career as a professional artist.
3. Applicants must be able to reside and work full-time at the McCahon House site during the term of the residency.
4. Artists will be expected to conclude their residency with a visual presentation or exhibition at a Public Gallery selected by the Trust or other suitable venue.
5. Artists will be required to interrelate with other artists and interested public through a programme of activities & events such as an open studio visit, workshop, collaborative dinner event and/or lecture.
6. Artists will be required to produce a post residency report.
7. Artists will be required to produce a work or series of works to be donated to the Trust during the course of the residency. Details including medium, edition size, sale price, production details and timing will be decided in discussion with the Artist and representatives of the Trust. The cost of the edition is to be borne by the Trust. The AP will remain the property of the Artist. The purpose of the limited edition is to create an archive by recipients of the residency and a revenue stream to support the programme.
8. No pets are allowed in the residency or the studio.
9. The artists are to leave the residency and the studio in the condition they found it.
10. The selection of artists is made by a panel of five selectors from a cross section of academics, collectors, critics, senior practitioners and a representative of the McCahon House Trust. The selectors will be announced before each call for applications.
11. Selection will be based on the excellence of the artist's work and the panel's belief that this award will help the artist to another level in their career. The sex, race, age and geographic location of the artist are irrelevant.
12. Selected artists based outside of New Zealand are responsible for their own travel and all other related costs to take up the residency.
13. The selection panel will have the discretion to select one or more artists for future residencies from one call for applications.
14. The selection panel's decision will be final and no correspondence will be entered into.

Applications are to arrive no later than 4pm on the due date – Friday 28 June 2019
